What's included in individual sets?

You can choose from Nestbox camping kit in several configurations, so-called sets, according to your preferences and needs. These sets then differ not only in their composition but also in price.

Complete set

This set consists of a body, water module, cooker module, space intended primarily for the fridge and the bed, which consists of the bed base support, bed base and mattress. The price of one set includes one bed support variant, either universal or basic (as preferred). The fridge is not included in the price of the camping kit.

Complete set+

This includes everything as a complete set with the difference that certain camping kits allow use of certain improvements to the sleeping set, labeled as PLUS. This variant refers to an upgrade when the bed uses a bed base with side rails and a mattress with side parts for maximum utilization of the vehicle sleeping width. This will extend your sleeping width by 15 cm / 5 7/8" on each side. As a rule, this is enabled in the area of the rear door at the second row of seats where the vehicle is wider than in the trunk. The PLUS variant already comes as the basic configuration of the basic configuration of Nestbox Camper NST CA 200 and Hiker NST HI 310.

Sleeping set

This is comprised of the main body and bed (bed base support, bed base and mattress). The price of one set includes one bed base support variant, either universal or basic (as preferred). This set does not contain the water module and the cooker module.

Sleeping set+

This is comprised of the body and bed (bed base support, bed base and mattress). This set does not contain the water module and the cooker module. Again, this is an upgrade. For the bed, a bed base is used with side rails and mattress with side parts for maximum utilization of the vehicle sleeping width. This will extend your sleeping width by 15 cm / 5 7/8" on each side.

Kitchen set

It consists of the main body, water module and cooker module. This set does not contain a bed. The fridge is not included in the price.
